Captain P. J. Irving and Chief Officer Barrett, of the White Star steamship Republic, were arrested while at the British Consulate yesterday, on the complaint of Thomas Dowse, the stowaway who was ressued from the Glamorgan by the Republic. The two officers were taken to the Sheriff's office, where they were at once admitted to bail in $5,000 each. Their bondsmen were R. J. Cortis, the agent of the White Star Line, and J. E. Jenkins. Captain Irving took his arrest with perfect composure. He said later to a TRIBUNE reporter: "I have made no attempt whatever to elude arrest. On the contrary I went to the office of the White Star Line this morning to the Heavy was best for me to do, and thence to the Consulate, with the intention of going from there to the Sheriff's office. The arrest might have been made with perfect ease before the Republic last left the city. Instead of moving promptiy in the matter, however, the lawyers seemed to have delayed until the last moment, so as to annoy me with a late arrest. I was in my office as usual on the Republic giving directions before we sailed, and the papers might have been served on me then. I did my duty in detaining Dowse and am ready to stand trial."

Dowse brings the suit for $25,000 damages for false imprisonment, asserting that he was unlawfully detained, under suspicion, after the Republic had reached her pier. It was thought at that time that Dowse might be connected with the Phœnix Park murders.

INDIGNANT AT THE SWEENEY BROTHERS.

A meeting of the creditors of J. A. and W. H. Sweeney, who made an assignment in December, was held yesterday afternoon in the Bennett Building, George L. Burr presided. He stated to the creditors that J. A. Sweeney had offered to pay 50 per cent to stock creditors and 35 per cent to all other creditors. This offer, however, involved a number of contingencies which, together with the fact that a suit had just been decided against the Sweeneys involving about $4,000, made the offer well-nigh worthless. A committee was appointed to find Mr. Sweeney. He said when they found him that he would not come to the meeting, as he had been insulted and ill-treated at a former meeting. He told the committee that friends of his would buy up the stock creditors' clams for 45 per cent of their original value and the other claims for 30 per cent. The committee reported this to the meeting and it was not considered satisfactory.

Many of the creditors were indignant at Mr. Sweeney's refusal to attend the meeting, and a committee consisting of Mr. Haver, Mr. Vauce and Mr. Heatherton was appointed to secure criminal indictments against the Sweeney brothers. After the meeting Mr. Burr visited J. A. Sweeney and secured from him a written offer of settlement similar to the one made orally to the committee.

Circulars, signed by William R. Alling and Ira Goddard, president and secretary of the Jewellers Protective Union, have been sent to retail jewellers throughout the country, warning them that several experienced thieves have left this city with the intention of robbing jewelry stores in small cities.
Members of the Union say that the wholesale dealers have lost heavily by robberies of retail merchants in the South and West to whom goods have been supplied on credit. These robberies amount to $90.000 since October 1, 1882, and none of the thieves have been captured. Children playing in a graveyard at Springfield, Ill., accidentally found jewelry worth $10,000, but the thieves have been able to dispose of mest of their booty without trouble.

Two meetings have been held monthly by whole-

Two meetings have been held monthly by wholesale jeweilers in New-York to consider a plan for organizing a detective agency. If the oc-operation of the retail jewellers can be secured, experienced detectives will be hired to track the thieves whenever a jewelry robbery is reported. The police authorities of this city have not been consulted in regard to the scheme, but their assistance will be needed at times in arresting burglars or the receivers of stolen property.

BRUTAL ASSAULT ON A WOMAN.

A woman, who gave the name of Mary Munch, age twenty-three, while in the apartment on Sunday evening occupied by William Johnson, age thirty-five, and Annie Johnson, his wife, at No. 47 Lud-low-st., was violently assaulted and beaten by them. When she was almost insensible, she asserts, Johnson bit off the point of her nose. Then her assailants left her bleeding profusely, after locking the door to prevent relief or escape. After some time her cries were heard, and when the nature of the outrage became known word was sent to the Tenth Precinct Police Station. Officer Creed, after a long search, succeeded in arresting Johnson and his wife, both of whom affected complete ignorance of the crime. They were taken before Justice Patterson yesterday at the Essex Market Police Court, and when their unfortunate victim appeared to prosecute the charge against them her face presented a frightful appearance. Johnson and his wife were committed for trial in General Seasions without bail. The complainant was sent to Bellevue Hospital.

There were 270 lots sold, and the highest price paid was $520 for the first issue of Bradford's press—"Kalendarium Pennsilvaniense; or America's Messenger." This is said to be the only copy of this almanae extant, and it was bought for the Philadelphia Historical Society. Three volumes of the "Attantic Neptune" brought $90. Several almanaes of the last century sold for from $5 to $11. Volume XII of the "American Tracts," and "Considerations on the Present State of the Christian Religion," by Alexander Ascot, published at Philadelphia in 1732, by B. Franklin, each sold for $10. The largest buyers were the Philadelphia Historical Society and the Lehigh University. The sale will continue throughout the week, afternoon and evening, until 3,249 lots are disposed of.

WHAT A MINISTER SHOULD BE.

WHAT A MINISTER SHOULD BE.

The Rev. Dr. R. S. MacArthur, pastor of Calvary Church, read a paper yesterday before the Baptist preachers, at No. 9 Murray-st., on "The Minister of Christ, as a Student, as a Preacher and as a Pastor." The minister as a student, said Dr. MacArthur, should be healthful, health being not a privilege but a duty. He should be workful, toil being the standard of value. Activity is God's medicine, genus is the ability to do hard work, and sanctified hard work is the foretaste of Heaven. He should be prayerful, for prayer unlocks many a secret of inspiration. The minister as a preacher should be unformly expository, should preach on subjects of the times and should breach extemporaneously. The age needs affirmative preaching. "We have no right to preach our doubts; we should speak authoritatively and not what we think." As a pastor, the minister must be personal, factful and spiritual.

MEN NOT APPOINTED SEEKING TO BE PAID.

The Democratic unjority of the Brooklyn Poard of Aldermen immediately upon getting control of the Board in January, 1883, attempted to appoint an assistant sergeant at arms and a third clerk to committees—both sinecure positions. Mayor Low promptly vetoed the appointments, on the ground that the officers were not needed. The Board made no attempt to override the veto. It appeared yesterday, however, that the two men who were not appointed had assumed their alleged duties, or at least had laid claim to their salaries, for at the meeting of the Board Alderman Kane, of the Sixth Ward, moved that the salaries of these two unappointed men for two months be paid. When asked who appointed them he replied: "The majority of the Board," As to the Mayor's veto, he said that the Mayor would have a chance to veto it again. After some discussion the matter was laid over for one week. MEN NOT APPOINTED SEEKING TO BE PAID.

TO RETALIATE ON THE FARMERS. THE THREATS OF THE DEALERS—THE RATIFICATION MEETING A FAILURE.

The milk market yesterday returned to its normal condition. The arrivals by the several railroads were fully equal to the demand. Indeed, it was reported that nearly 500 cans of milk from Orange County were returned to their awners unopened. When peace was declared between the dealers and producers on Saturday, it was supposed that all the troubles which had vexed the two parties were at an end. The developments of yesterday proved that this was a mistake. Although the result of the recent conference was satisfactory to the farmers it was not satisfactory to the dealers. "I want you to understand," said a city dealer to a TRIBUNE reporter, "that the majority of the milk dealers of this city do not accept the schedule of prices as made by those men at the Cosmopolitan Hotel. The committee which pretended to represent our interests in that conference was not chosen by us, and had no authority to make pledges for the rest of us. The farmers have had their pienic in this milk war, and now we are going to have ours. They kent back their milk when we needed it, and compelied us to lose many of our customers. Now we will show them what we can do. Perhaps you already know that 500 cans of milk were returned to the farmers in Orange County this morning. A large number of dealers here will refuse to buy from the farmers engaged in the recent troubles after April 1. Contracts are even now being made with producers slong other lines of railroad than the Erie. We intend to teach them a lesson they will never forget."

slong other lines of railroad than the Erie. We intend to teach them a lesson they will never forget."

A meeting of dealers was called at the Magnolia Hotel in the afternoon to ratify the action of the recent conference in arranging the price of milk for the next year. About twenty responded to the call. J. B. Mezick, of Brooklyn, was appointed chairman and G. D. Parsons, secretary of the meeting. George W. Allison, a member of the New-York Milk Exchange, was the first speaker. He said: "As a ratification meeting, this is a failure. It is well known, however, that the prices afready made are unsatisfactory to the majority of the dealers. No one will deny that the schedule is fair enough for first-class dairies, but for others it is no. Men who run cheap dairies expect to get just as much for their milk as those who run the best. There are some dairies the milk of which is worth 42."

"We have been told by a newspaper that tarmers should make their own prices for their milk." said L. L. Allen, another dealer. "Now, why should they? They don't make the price of any article they produce, for the law of rupply and demand does that. Why should they receive as much as they want for their milk? If the street-sweeper only had as much as he wanted for his work, Vanderbilt would soon be obliged to go to him for a job. When the farm rs go to draw their cheeks next month, they will not be as happy as they were a month ago. They will repeat in sack cloth and ashes when it is too late." Speeches were then made by several others, and the meeting adjourned. It is expected that a ratification meeting will be held late in the week.

They pleaded guilty to a charge of spilling Baakes & Co.'s creamery milk during the excitement of the last week, and were breek $2.50 each, they promising also to pay the creamery men the value of the milk spilled. The farmers state that they only wanted to prevent the shipment of the milk to New-York, and that they offered to pay the value of the creamery men would take it back and manufacture it into butter or cheese. They insist that they are respectable men and not law-breakers.

A COACHMAN THREATENING HIS MASTER.

Hosea B. Perkins, of One-bundred and seventy-seventh-st. and Kingsbridge-road, about three months ago hired Cornelius Quinlan, twenty-four years of age, as coachman and general helper. On last Saturday night there arose some dispute between them about a matter of wages, and the man became insolent. He went out on sauday and did not return until a late hour. When he came in be went upstairs to Mr. Perkins, who was in the bathroom, and was very abusive, threatening to cut Mr. Perkins's heart out. He bad no weapon, however, committed no violence, and shortly afterward was taken from the room by Mr. Perkins's sons. Officer John Woods, of the Thirty-second Precinct, was eatled in, and the man was airested. He had evidently been drinking, and when the officer came he was asleep. Yesterday the man was taken before Justice Morgan, at the Harlem Police Court, and fined $10; and in default of sureties of $300 to keep the peace, he was committed for a month. VICTIMS OF RELIGIOUS MANIA.

Franz Ackerman and his wife were arrested on Sunday night while disturbing a Cathohe congregation in Yorkville. They were examined by Dr. Van Musit, of No. 1,266 Lexington-ave., and declared victims of religious mania. Their two small children were found in their apartments at No. 1,613 Second-ave, nearly naked and almost starved. When arraigned in the Harlem Police Court yesterday, the parents demed that they were insane, but the mother admitted that she had not a sufficient quantity of food during the past three months. The family was temporarily committed by Justice Morgan, and food was given them. The parents refused to eat it, or to allow their children to do so, until the latter were taken away by force. In the afternoon Officer Knoll, of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, took the boy and girl to St. Joseph's Home. The parents were sent to the Commissioners of Charities and Correction for examination. VICTIMS OF RELIGIOUS MANIA.

The expenses of the Society for the last year were $8,700 and its funds are now in a good condition. This summer it is intended to build a new mission church, reading-room and rectory at Houston and West streets. The new building will be of brick and stone. The ground has cost $28,000, and the total cost of the ground and building will be $60,000, to be completed by fall. There are now four of these missions at different points in the city, and this will be the most complete of them all. The election of officers for the year took place last evening, resulting in the election of the former board with one or two exceptions, E. M. Duncan and Charles Tracy being elected lay vice-presidents, and Henry Rogers corresponding secretary.

Other members of the family corroborated her testimony. The Judge reserved his decision.

NEWARK. NEWARK.

Louisa Sorhagen, age twenty-three, a servant in the family of D. D. Price, at No. 8 Baldwin-st., was fatally burned yesterday afternoon by coals failing upon her dress.

Isane W. Vogelsang, a lantern manufacturer at No. 64 Market-st., committed suicide early yester-day morning by shooting himself. He left letters saying he anticipated sitemess and preferred death. He was unmarried and fifty-two years old.

RECENT EXPERIMENTS WITH ANTISEPTICS.—
Dr. Robson has described to the British Association of Science a series of experiments made by him to test the efficiency of atmospheres charged with volatile antiseptics in preventing the development of life in putrescible fluids. Flasks of sterilized hay infusion suspended in large, while monthed, open lars, into which a little eucalyptus oil, or the like, had been poured, remained clear, while flasks of the same infusion briefly exposed to ordinary are and then covered with cotton wool, legan to lose clearness and to scum over within a few hours. Altogether, the results are thought to indicate that, at ordinary temperatures, air saturated with vapors of the class named is fant to the germs of bacteria and micrococci, and probably also to the germs of bevers and other infections diseases. When the vapor is used during surgical operations, a bellows is employed to liberate air charged with it upon the spot exposed. The air is first drawn through a vessel filled with cutton wool, then through others filled with pumice stone, over which a small quantity of enealyptol has been poured. The vapors are not unpleasant when breathed.

"I heerd yer old mudder was dead," said "I heerd yer old midder was dead," said Sam Johnsing to Gabe Snodgrass, a colored citizen of Austin, "Jes' so. She died has 'week." "Was she sick long!" "No; she jus' tuck sick one day an' died de nex." "Only sick one day! De Lor', why dat was hardly wull winle "-{Texas Siftings.

OF THE

NERVOUS SYSTEM.

The power of the nervous system, over life and happiness, is theroughly recognized; and the danger of overtaxing it, by intense mental application or excessive indulgence of the appentites and propensities, is of vital importance. When it is deranged, it is necessary to seek advice from an expert who knows the cause and the remedy. If the orain has become exhausted by intense mental apply cation, it can only recover its strength by being systematically treated. It is precisely the same with the nerves that preside over organic life. This branch of medical practice cannot be overrated; it affects marriage, and perpetuation of During extensive experience in this specialty I have re-ceived the appreciation of many distinguished persons and can communicate that which pertains to it, and the means of
